It will be interesting to the friends of the Third brigade, to which the Sixty-fifth is attached, to hear that she has the praise at Department headquarters of doing some of the most desperate fighting on Sunday, the 20th inst., that was done on the whole line, and holding her position for six hours in the face of the most galling fire from the enemy, all my old friends, and as many new ones when our troops were forced to give back as will favor me with their patronage. both on our right and left, owing to the superior force of the enemy. Col. Harker of the Sixty fifth, commanding the brigade, ex- land. hibited the bravery of a hero, and once, when our lines had been entirely broken by Gen. Negley's division retreating, he took the colors himself and rallied the regiment, cheering the boys continually by being in the hot-test of the battle. None of our officers de-serted their posts, as some others were seen sarted their posts, as some others were seen to do, but some of them showed expessial bravery and determination. Our Adjulant, Lieut. Brewer Smith of Sandusky, was particularly unmindful of the deadly missiles ticularly unmindful of the deadty missiles about his person, in his untiring efforts in rallying our men and stragglers from other commands, and forming them in our lines. Joseph Thompson, petit larceny, $10, and Gen. Wood, commanding our division, was in his place at all times. We are proud that we have such commanders in our brigade

The Battles of Chicamanga--- Lusses of Goodspeed's Buttery. BATTLE CREEK, TENN,

September 23, 1863. EDS. LEADER: -One of the greatest battles of this or any other war has just ended; fought against appalling odds and the essence of the entire rebel army, on their chosen ground, in a country strange to us, while the enemy were perfectly conversant with every foot of it; yet, notwithstanding the formidable array and the fearful disadvantages opposed, the brave Army of the Cumberland have heroically and gloriously acquitted themselves of their mighty trust and added greener laurels to their already undying wreath. It is next to an impossibility to glean anything reliable from the vague contradictory reports in circulation here, consequently I can give nothing definite except

GOODSPEED'S RATTERY. Lieutenant Ed. Belden gave me a list of the easualties in his Battery, which are as and arm—the latter being broken. This of-ficer has wen an enviable reputation as a gal-lart officer and a sociable, accomplished genleman. Great praise is awarded Captain Good speed for skill displayed in maneuvering his Battery and the unflinching bravery he man-ifested during all those long days of gloom

I can ascertain nothing from other Northern Ohio Regiments. Standart's, South wick's and Twentieth Batteries came on with their pieces, though each losing som men. D. W. S.

Ws are compelled again most earnestly to request our friends to assist us with conributions, both of money and material. We have sent all supplies at our command to the relief of the wounded in the late battles, and intelligence has been received that they were promptly transferred to the advance of the army. The wants in that department are still pressing, and we have been appealed to from the Central office of the Commission to use all speed to hasten forward further supplies. We are, however, unable to an swer as we would such calls for relief from those who havh learned to rely upon our aid Will not our friends help us to send forward another car load of goods the present week At no time will even a small contribution be of more value, or be more promptly applied to its destined use.

The particular class of articles now calls for are as follows: Clothing, bedding, canned and dried fruit, light groceries, wines and cordials, vegetables and fresh butter Our stock of cotton and linen rage is also ex emely low. Let us remember that all we can do with our best efforts will hardly suffice to meet the just claims now urged upo SOLDIERS' AID SOCIETY. 111 Superior-St., Cleveland, C.
